Hey _____, I hope you've had a great start to 2019! I've got a quick idea that I'd love to run past you. This March I'm (enter challenge here) for an awesome cause. I'm taking part in the Poverty Cycle challenge, raising money for those trapped in slavery and exploitation.

I recently found out that around 4.8 million people are victims of forced commercial sexual exploitation - approximately the population of New Zealand.

I'm keen to change that, and I'd love if you could support me! Any donation no matter how big or small will make a huge difference. If you'd like to donate, check out my fundraising page <<insert your link here>>

Thanks so much :)
